I would like to extend thanks to PricklyTree Web Design for the excellent design they created for this web site and the continued help with the complicated Cascading Style Sheet. I had been meaning to update the old web site for some time, but as usual I did not have any round tuits available.

I would also like to thank Nick Stevens for permission to use his fantastic panoramic photograph of the main drive and gothic chapel on this web site. Please visit his web site for more panoramic photos of Nunhead Cemetery, which is accessible from the galleries page.
