Accessing the Members Only Pages on the FONC Web Site

FONC members have access to a password-protected Members Area and enjoy added benefits (newsletters, discounts on FONC publications).

In order to improve security in the Members area, we have changed the login requirements. You will now need a personal username and password.

If you have already been issued with your username and password, you can log in by filling in the login form to the left under the menu.

If you are a member and would like a personal log-in, please email membership@fonc.org.uk stating your first name, last name and home postcode. (Please allow 7 days for our response as this process is not automatic). You will then be issued with a username (your email address) and a password.

Non-members can find out about membership here .

I would welcome suggestion from members as to what they would like to see in this section of the web site, but any suggestions will have to be approved by the Committee.
